

Letter of Advice

Pretend you are an advice columnist for your school paper. A new fifth grader has asked you for advice on how to make new friends. The student has told you his or her interests. Write a letter of advice to this student.

Drafting Tips

- Include specific information about the school and its students that will help the newcomer.
- Draw conclusions based on facts the newcomer has told you and on what you know about making friends.
- Include all the parts of a friendly letter.