

abdomen

the part of the body containing the stomach, the intestines, and other important organs artificial

made by human skill or labor; not natural

gait

a manner of walking or running handicapped

having a physical or mental disability

therapist

person who specializes in the treatment of diseases, injuries or
disorders

wheelchair

a chair on wheels,
used especially by
people who are sick or cannot walk